

Victorian Easter Basket Instructions

1. Print box onto heavy white or pastel-colored card stock.
2. Cut around the edges carefully with scissors, a craft knife or a paper cutter.
3. Fold the panels with the roses on them first, following the dotted lines. Crease the folds with a bone folder, burnisher or the side of a pen. (If you use the side of a pen, make sure to cover the creased area with a piece of paper so you don't make any scrape marks.)
4. Fold the panels with the rabbit on them, following the instructions in number 3.
5. Pinch the corner pieces toward the center of the box, and then crease them.
6. Glue the corner pieces to the sides to hold the box together. You'll need to glue the fold to the box and then put a little glue in the fold to hold it in place.
